7.5. How to submit your work

At each stage, presenters will receive official notifications via email from the organizing committee. Reporters kindly adhere to the guidelines on content, format, and time. To ensure the accuracy of submitted documents, participants please send original files of Abstract/Poster//Powerpoint that meet the requirements with their PDF version.

7.6. Check for plagiarism

Plagiarism is the deliberate or unintentional act of authors using someone else's words, paragraphs, articles, figures, photos, facts, or ideas and passing them off as their own in their academic products, without properly crediting the source. This is considered a serious violation of ethical standards in scholarship that cannot be ignored.

After submission, the Organizing Committee will check reporters' documents for plagiarism by using Turnitin. Documents that have less than a 20% similarity score will be acceptable. If there is more than 20% resemblance, the writers will be requested to revise their work. Any products that are not edited within the time limit or do not reach the required Turnitin score will be rejected.

The Organizing Committee recommends the authors who have access to Turnitin to check for plagiarism by themselves and attach the plagiarism detector's reports when submitting products. Authors must take responsibility if there is an issue pertaining to the copyrights and research ethics of papers submitted. The Organizing Committee is not responsible for providing plagiarism - checking tools to participants.
